26th Nordic Seminar on Computational Mechanics, October 23-25, 2013

More information about this event...

CBC will host the 26th Nordic Seminar on Computational Mechanics, October 23-25, 2013

The Nordic Seminar on Computational Mechanics (NSCM) is organized annually by the Nordic Association for Computational Mechanics (NoACM), which represents the Nordic and the Baltic countries in the International Association for Computational Mechanics (IACM).

NSCM aims to be a meeting place for researchers developing computational methods and scientists and engineers focusing on challenging applications in broad aspects of mechanics. In particular, presentations by graduate students are welcome.

Plenary speakers:

- Erik Burman, Chair of Computational Mathematics at University College London
- Elena Celledoni, Professor at the Department of Mathematical Sciences, at NTNU
- Jakob Søndergaard Jensen, Associate Professor at the Department of Mechanical Engineering, Technical University of Denmark
- Juho Könnö, Team Leader for the Structural Analysis team at Wärtsilä
- Garth N. Wells, Hibbitt Reader in Solid Mechanics at University of Cambridge and Fellow of Jesus College
